PRIVACY POLICY

In the course of completing registration for this competition, you have provided information about yourself ('personal data'). We (Unwanted Witness) are the 'data controller' for this information, which means we decide how to use it and are responsible for looking after it in accordance with the Data Protection and Privacy laws of Kenya, Uganda, Rwanda and Tanzania

Unwanted Witness fully respects your right to privacy, and will not collect, process or publish any personal data about you other than as set out in this privacy policy. Any personal information, which you provide to Unwanted Witness will be treated with the highest standards of security and confidentiality, strictly in accordance with applicable data protection laws of Kenya, Uganda, Rwanda and Tanzania.

How we use your data

We will use your data to: register you as a member of a team, a judge, an observer or a member or an observer on our online social media platforms.

We need to process your personal data for this purpose in order to verify that you are eligible to take part in the Unwanted Witness Privacy Moot Court Competition 2025, to notify you about all necessary information in regard to the Competition. Without information such as name, phone number, email, current degree and other information specified in the registration form that applies to your role, we are unable to ensure that you have all necessary information to allow you to fully participate in this Competition.

Additionally, we are processing your data for these purposes only because you have given us your consent to do so by agreeing to this Privacy Policy, when completing the registration form. You can withdraw your consent at any time by contacting us at info@unwantedwitness.org. In this competition, we will stop the processing as soon as we can. However, this will not affect the lawfulness of any processing carried out before your withdrawal of consent.

We will only use your data for the purposes for which we collected it, unless we reasonably consider that we need to use it for another related reason and that reason is compatible with the original purpose. If we need to use your data for an unrelated purpose, we will seek your consent to use it for that new purpose.

Who has access to your data?

Access to your data held by Unwanted Witness will be provided to those who need to view it as part of their work in carrying out the purposes described above.

We may share your data with other institutions and companies who provide services to us, such as for printing purposes and guest lists at venues. These institutions and companies are required to take appropriate security measures to protect your data in line with our policies. We do not allow them to use your data for their own purposes. We permit them to process your data only for specified purposes and in accordance with our instructions.

Where there is a need to share your data with a third party, we will first seek your consent to do so.

Retaining your data

We will only retain your data for as long as we need it to meet our purposes, including any relating to legal, accounting, or reporting requirements. However, that period is never longer than one (3) year from when the data are submitted.

Security

Your data will be held securely in accordance with the Unwanted Witness's policies and procedures.

Further information is available on the Unwanted Witness website: <https://www.unwantedwitness.org/privacy-policy/>

Where we store and use your data

We store and use your data at Unwanted Witness Uganda's physical address: Block381, Plot NO.26, and Nsibambi Village.

Online-based Audio and Video Conferences (Conference tools)

We use online conference tools, among other things, for communication with the participating teams and judges. If you communicate with us by video or audio conference using the Internet, your personal data will be collected and processed by the provider of the respective conference tool and by us. The conferencing tools collect all information that you provide/access to use the tools (email address and/or your phone number). Furthermore, the conference tools process the duration of the conference, start and end (time) of participation in the conference, number of participants and other "context information" related to the communication process (metadata).

Furthermore, the provider of the tool processes all the technical data required for the processing of the online communication. This includes, in particular, IP addresses, MAC addresses, device IDs, device type, operating system type and version, client version, camera type, microphone or loudspeaker and the type of connection.

Should content be exchanged, uploaded, or otherwise made available within the tool, it is also stored on the servers of the tool provider. Such content includes, but is not limited to, cloud recordings, chat/instant messages, voicemail uploaded photos and videos, files, whiteboards, and other information shared while using the service.

Please note that we do not have complete influence on the data processing procedures of the tools used. Our possibilities are largely determined by the corporate policy of the respective provider. Further information on data processing by the conference tools can be found in the data protection declarations of the tools used, and which we have listed below this text.

Conference tools used

We employ the following conference tools:

Zoom

We use Zoom. The provider of this service is Zoom Communications Inc, San Jose, 55 Almaden Boulevard, 6th Floor, San Jose, CA 95113, USA. For details on data processing, please refer to Zoom's privacy policy: <https://zoom.us/en-us/privacy.html>.

How can you access your personal data, verify its accuracy and, if necessary, correct it?

You have a right to access your personal data, and request correction of inaccurate, or deletion of irrelevant personal data. When you submit your application, an e-mail confirmation is sent to your e-mail address. Furthermore, you may also exercise the above-mentioned rights by contacting:
